

Newport Bay Conservancy (NBC) Annual Symposium 2013

Newport Bay Conservancy
Our mission is to protect and preserve Upper Newport Bay

Plants and their Pollinators: Interactions for a Healthy Planet

22 June 2013, 9am - 3pm

Peter and Mary Muth Interpretive Center,
Newport Bay Nature Preserve, Newport Beach, CA

9:00-9:45 am: Lives of the small and beautiful: butterflies and their host plants in Orange County

Jutta C. Burger, Co-Director, Science and Stewardship, Irvine Ranch Conservancy

9:45-10:30 am: The Wacky World of Pollination

Keynote Speaker: Robert L. Allen, Co-author with Fred. M. Roberts, Jr. of Wildflowers of Orange County and the Santa Ana Mountains (signed copies might be available for sale)

10:30-11:00 am: Break

11:00-11:45 am: California's Fading Wildflowers: Lost Legacy and Biological Invasions

Richard Minnich, Professor of Geography, University of California, Riverside and author of California's Fading Wildflowers: Lost Legacy and Biological Invasions (signed copies will be available for sale)

11:45 am-12:35 pm: Bringing Back the Pollinators: What we can all do to protect this vital resource

Scott Hoffman Black, Executive Director, Xerces Society for Invertebrate Conservation, Portland, Oregon. Co-author of Conserving Bumble Bees. Guidelines for Creating and Managing Habitat for America's Declining Pollinators and Are Neonicotinoids Killing Bees? (signed copies will be available for sale)

1:00-2:00 pm: Lunch, native plant sale

2:00-3:00 pm: Demonstrations and field trips

Save your space by registering on line at www.NewportBay.org or at the front desk at the Peter and Mary Muth Interpretive Center!

NBC Members and Students $20; Non-members $40 (includes lunch!)

NON-MEMBERS SPECIAL: $50 includes symposium, lunch and individual annual NBC membership (= $65 value; includes $10 kayak tours, reduced prices to events such as this, gift shop discount and more!)